Customer Complaints Policy

On receiving a complaint the details will be entered into the customer complaints control sheet.

An acknowledgement letter will be sent out to the customer by return.

The complaint will then be investigated within one week, visiting the site if necessary.

Justified Complaint

If Goodridge Electronics feels the complaint is justified, the customer will be contacted to discuss details of remedial work or to agree compensation.

A letter confirming the visit or telephone conversation will be sent. The letter will have a reply slip for the customer to agree to the remedial work or compensation.

The customer complaints control sheet will be updated.

After the remedial work or compensation has been finalised, a letter will be sent for the customer to confirm the complaint has now been resolved.

The customer complaints control sheet will be updated.

Unjustified Complaint

If Goodridge Electronics feels the customer's complaint is unjustified a letter will be sent to the customer.

The customer complaints control sheet will be updated.
